HR HENRY ROBISON

★ EVERETT, WASHINGTON · MARKETING AT WWU

Henry Robison

Marketing major at Western Washington University, already taking junior-level classes. I started college early through ORCA, a research-based program at Everett Community College, and I have worked the floor at three Everett restaurants since 2023.

★ WHERE I STARTED COLLEGE

Ocean Research College Academy

ORCA is the early college program at Everett Community College that I attended while earning my associate degree.

ORCA is a full-time Running Start program for high school juniors and seniors. Students take college classes together as a cohort, and the research is built into the coursework instead of sitting beside it.

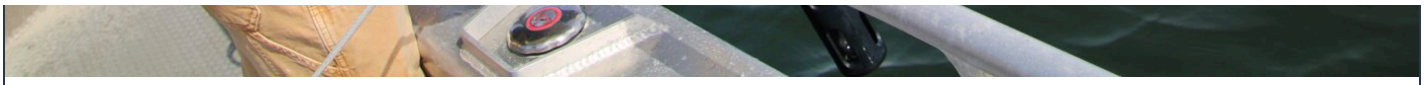

The academy sits on the Everett waterfront at the Port of Everett. Students collect and analyze data on the health of Possession Sound, tracking water quality and the abundance and distribution of marine life. A research lab and a research vessel make that possible.

The program has a unique standing: EvCC describes it as the only program in the country where high school students conduct college-level original oceanography research. Students finish with an associate degree and a high school diploma, with college tuition covered through Running Start.

For me, ORCA meant learning to ask a question, gather evidence, and explain the result clearly. Those are the same habits I bring to marketing: test what works, trust the data, and communicate it well.

★ EXPERIENCE

Three Everett restaurants, one habit

Every job here comes down to the same thing: a guest gets a better experience because the team ran smoothly. Marketing starts with that experience too.

★ SERVICE AND LEADERSHIP

Showing up every week

Showing up every week

Volunteering is where I learned to run things behind the scenes so other people can enjoy them.

Renew Church, Lynnwood

VOLUNTEER · 2022 TO PRESENT

I help with event logistics for church potluck meals: setting up folding tables and chairs, making coffee, arranging food, clearing dishes, washing linens, sweeping and vacuuming.

AV booth

I run the soundboard and set up ProPresenter slides, so the audio and visuals work live for everyone in the room. It is real-time technical work where mistakes show up right away.

★ WORK ETHIC

When I want it done, it gets done

> I make a plan, do the next task, and keep going until it is finished.

CONSISTENCY

Working since 2023

Restaurant work started in 2023, and I have stayed in it through college classes at EvCC. Three employers, four front-of-house roles in one season, and no gaps in showing up.

RECOGNITION

Noticed by my managers

Lombardi's named me Employee of the Month in November 2024. That award comes from doing the job well every shift, not from one good night.

DEPENDABILITY

Showing up unasked

I have volunteered at Renew Church since 2022, handling setup, cleanup and the AV booth. People count on the soundboard and slides working, so I make sure they do.

INITIATIVE

Taking on more

On top of classes and work, I serve on the EvCC student government Senate. I take the next responsibility when it is offered.

★ SKILLS

What I bring to a team

QUICK LEARNER

Picked up four front-of-house roles in a single season at Fisherman Jack's.

ADAPTIVE THINKER

Comfortable switching stations and solving problems on a busy floor.

GOOD LISTENER

Hearing what a guest or teammate needs is the first step in getting it right.

LOGICAL THINKER

Breaks problems into steps, from restaurant flow to live audio setups.

RESPECTFUL

Works well with guests, coworkers and managers across very different roles.

OUTGOING

Easy to talk to, which suits hosting, serving and student government.

★ MY GOAL

ONE GOAL

Get it done.

That is my only goal: finish what I start. I am working toward a marketing degree at Western Washington University and a career in business, and I will keep going until I get there.
